Aleksi advises our clients on capital markets transactions, securities markets regulation and corporate law matters as well as private M&A transactions. He also works as a lawyer in our New York team, but he is not qualified to practice law in the US.

Aleksi joined Borenius as an Associate in 2022, and before that he worked as a trainee at the firm's New York office. Aleksi has also gained experience as a trainee at other business law firms in Finland.

In addition to his law degree from the University of Turku, Aleksi is currently pursuing a bachelor's degree in finance and accounting at the Turku School of Economics. He has also studied business law and finance at Washington State University, in the US.
